He was known to have a wide variety of music and would always DJ the football parties. Charles will create an experience of a lifetime through music and prides himself on paying attention to every little detail of an event. He is a big fan of lighting, dancing on the clouds, indoor sparklers and all of the special effects for an event. He really enjoys catering to the older crowds at weddings. Playing music for the younger generation is easy, but he loves seeing all of the parents and grandparents on the dance floor having a great time with the best of them! Charles enjoys giving back to the community and working community service events with several organizations that he is involved in. He loves to golf and is willing to challenge anyone who thinks they can hang with him on the golf course!
