Whether he's making a beat, painting a picture, or blending tracks in the booth, DJ John Camp can never go too long without making something that either looks, sounds, or feels good when other people experience it. His love for music started in Little Rock, AR during hour-long bus rides to school listening to his iPod which eventually led to him learn to create and edit music himself. Fascinated by the technical details of making music sound good, the only thing that kept John from being a homebody in his early years was his love for playing basketball with his friends.

Years later as an adult, John put two and two together and decided he should share his musical passion with the people through DJing. Aided by his music production background, he's rocked out the dance floors of hundreds of weddings all over Texas. John prides himself in being able to mix in the right amount of every genre needed throughout the night so that you, your sisters, bros, parents, and your new in-laws all have an amazing time.

Whether it's the 2000's hip hop hits that got him into the music world through his iPod, the pop hits of the past decade, country classics or anything in between, DJ John Camp has something in the stash to make sure you have a blast!
